

2nd Annual "Kids Science Day" a Big Hit for All Involved

Last week we held our second annual “Kids Science Day” in conjunction with the national “Take Your Son/Daughter to Work Day”. We had 22 kids in attendance this year ranging from 5 to 12 years of age. The event was another huge success and there was no doubt that the 22 kids who attended left our building with a better understanding of the various jobs at Ross Organic, and the cosmetic and personal care industry as a whole. The kids took a tour of the facility and met with team members in each department, including stops at the lab, the server room, the sample room, the distribution warehouse, and the customer service and sales department. After watching a video about the importance of hand washing the kids got to make their own “Germ Smart Hand Wash”. Following the hand wash, they watched a short video that explained emulsification and the kids made their own cold-processable lotion. It’s tough to communicate how incredible and inspiring it was to watch the kids learn in this environment – so we’ve put a photo gallery together to tell the story. Enjoy!
